

Short Bio

Stephen Victor is a business consultant, writer, visionary, mystic, poet and pioneer in the fields of human possibility and consciousness. For the twenty eight years Stephen has been a guide and catalyst for change in human systems; individual, familial and organizational. In his late twenties he began to dedicate his life to transfiguring individual and organizational relationships with the Mystery's field of intelligence and wisdom; to leave the banal and prosaic and enter the creative and poetic aspects of living and working. He works in Europe, the Middle East as well as the United States.

His practice has included providing counsel, teaching and training to individuals, businesses, the film industry, NGOs and governmental agencies focusing on ecological interpersonal business communications, interactions and transactions, resolving personal, structural and process generated conflict, and reconciling unseen impediments to flow and creativity within human systems and organizational intelligence.
